<Special Items>

With regard to the hotels owned by JHR, RevPAR of the total of the 24 Hotels with Variable Rent, etc. for August declined by 75.3% from the same month last year, due to a decrease in the number of inbound visitors to Japan caused by the impact of restrictions on travel from foreign countries to Japan, requests to refrain from tourism including the declaration of local government’s own state of emergency, etc. and limitations on admission of large-scale theme parks.

In September, as in the previous month, some hotels have seen the gradual recovery of demand, however, a full recovery has not yet achieved. On the other hand, leisure demand is expected to recover, with high occupancy rates at many hotels during the four-day holiday (so called “Silver Week”) in September, and the pace of bookings trending upward from October onward due to the effects of the inclusion of Tokyo in “Go to Travel” campaign and the opening of a new area for the large-scale theme park.

In response to these circumstances, each hotel is striving to give consideration to health of guests and employees, working to manage hygiene environment and conducts operations while thoroughly implementing cost management.
